

Judges Information Update February 2015

Judge Required

Anthony Bakes, the tournament organiser for the NCAS Flight championships is looking for a National judge to officiate at the NCAS Flight champs on the 16th August 2015. The tournament will be held at Elvington Airfield. If you are a National judge, are available and would like to be CoJ at this event, can you please contact me, I will then forward your details on to Tony.

Judge Update

Near the end of February I received notification from Lindsey Lawrence of her intention to retire from judging.

Lindsey was a Cheshire judge who had attained the grade of National, but due to work commitments had not been able to sit the re-assessment exam in 2014. She now has a growing number of grandchildren and has decided to spend more of her time with them than on an archery field.

National Conference

The judges National conference will take place this coming weekend at Lilleshall National Sports centre. The weekend promises to be very interesting and I look forward to seeing those of you who are attending. Next month's newsletter will contain information from the conference, so it should be a bumper issue.
